Again, I am reminded that I am here, in a place that I do not always recognize,
as a person that I barely know.

A new invention:

The Hope Diaper

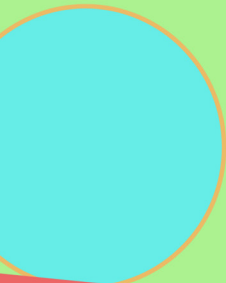

A regular diaper that says hope on the front of it.

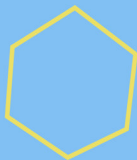

A reminder to moms everywhere that no matter how hopeful you are, your baby will probably always be shitty.

It also has a (fake) sapphire on the front.

Just like in the movie, after you use it, it gets chucked in the ocean.

Once, someone tried to get me to join their cult. I politely declined.

This reminds me of when I was growing up and my parents would tell me that I never needed to worry about being kidnapped, because I was so annoying that the kidnapper would definitely bring me right back home.

They also told me that I didn't have to worry about anyone hiding under my bed because it was so messy under there that no one could fit.

I still practice this method of home security today.
